

Bee Blooming Bold!

The Friends of Horsham Park ran a planting design competition earlier in the year, to celebrate horticulture in the District for Horsham District Year of Culture 2019. This is an artist's impression of the winning entry by Debbie Hepburn, that you see in front of you.

All of the plants selected are perfect for a whole range of pollinators, with simple flowers that have lots of nectar and pollen, and have been grown Peat-free. This is a summer planting scheme and will last until the first frosts in the autumn.

All of the work, including the building of the bug hotel, was undertaken by a group of volunteers and as such, we politely ask that you please respect this community project.
